Of Senor Guetary, who is to sing at Mrs. Merrill's benefit concert Oct. 6 in Broadway theater the London Tatler

Broadway theater the London Tatler says:

Senor Guetary, the Spanish tenor, who has been singing before the king and queen of Spain at the palace of Sn Sebastian, and has received as a testimony of royal appreciation the Order of Isabel la Catolica from the queen, comes from the north of Spain. Senor Guetary, who is now settled in London, has a singularly pure and finely modulated tenor voice.

His career on the stage has been a notable one. He made his debut in "Faust" in Rome, and also sang in opera at Milan and Naples. His first appearance in London was in "Robert le Diable" at Covent Garden, in the autumn of 1891, with Signor Lago's company. Later he took an engagement under Sir Augustus Harris and has sung with Albani, Melba, Esmes and Calve, and Mme. de Reske, Maurel and Plancon. He also played Alfredo on the last occasion when Madame Patti gave "La Traviata" at Craig-y-nos.—The Tatler.

Free Lecture on Christian Science.

Free Lecture on Christian Science.

Invitations to an extensive list of Norwich people have been sent out by the First Society of Christ, Scientist, of this city for a free lecture on Christian Science Sunday afternoon in Broadway theater. The speaker is to be Rev. William P. McKenzie, C. S. B. member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Rev. William P. McKenzie, C. S. B., of Cambridge, Mass., was educated at Upper Canada college, and graduated from Toronto university in 1884. During the Riel rebellion in the Canadian northwest in 1885 he was war correspondent for the Toronto Mall. Four years later he graduated from Knox Theological college, and after a postgraduate course at Auburn Theological seminary was ordained by the presbytery of Rochester, N. Y. After serving in the ministry for four years, he withdrew from presbytery and in 1895 resigned his position as instructor in English literature and rhetoric at Rochester university to engage in Christian Science work. In 1898 he was appointed a trustee of the Publish society and a lecturer and had the privilege of instruction from the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy, in her class of that year.

A Norwich Call.

A Norwich Call.

Tune—"Marching Through Georgia."
(This song, written for this occasion by Mrs. M. S. Kaufman, was sung with fine effect at Broadway theater last

Thirty years has rum held sway in this fair town of ours, Thirty years the sceptre held within its hostile powers, And today in giant form defiantly it Within our beautiful city.

Along, along we'll press with purpose strong. ong, along to vote away this w Nor rest we; until the echoes bear aloft the song, Norwich has gone for No-License. Thirty years the liquor field has spread a deadly spall.

Thirty years his anarchy has enervated, all.

But, awake! the bugle blast is sounding forth the call—

Rescue bur beautiful city!

Chorus—

Thirty years has woman wept, o'er Borrows without name.
Thirty years have children borne their fathers' open shame, Till, at last, for decency, let every man "Rescue our beautiful city!" Chorus-

BREED THEATER.

Comata, the Sioux, Sensational Indian Picture.

As a chief feature motion picture for the remainder of the week the great Indian story of Comata, the Sioux, has been selected, and the powerful; story of the Indian's constancy is most accurately portrayed. It is a thrill from start to finish and the poor misguided young squaw. Clear Eyes, refuses to become the wife of Comata, the young Sioux brave, only to marry Bud Watkins, a white cowboy, who turns out to be pothing short of a rascal. Tring of his little Indian bride, he turns his attentions to a very attractive white girl. Comata has watched his rival closely and vows to avenge his lost one and, taking the little pappoose until she has sent for her lover and confronts him with it, whereupon the trate father orders the cowboy from his grounds and poor little Clear Eyes, with the baby, starts for her old home in the Black Hills, where she resumes her native attire. Aside from being a story of intense interest, the scenic splender of it has never been surpassed, transporting the spectator psychologically to the very heart of the Black Hills.

This is but one of the many attractions of the Breed, and two other big features are on the programme, besides 1,000 feet of Blograph comedy.

Miss Grace Alwin will sing the big cencert song Leonore, one of the strongest numbers in her repertoire.

THE AUDITORIUM.

Famous in the world of vaudeville are Hensel & Walsh, who are heading the strong vaudeville bill at the Auditorium the present week, and the clever Dutch comedy which they present keeps their audience in roars of laughter throughout their act. Mr. Frensel, the fat man in the act, is an old timer in the show business and has been associated with many of the leading comedians in the country, being understudy for two seasons for the late Gus Rogers, of the famous Rogers Brothers.

Brothers.

Mr. Sprague, the elongated comedian of the team of Sprague & Dixon deflivers his lines in a droll, dry manner, bringing out the fine points of every joke he springs. He does not try to be funny. He is naturally funny and in the clever handling of his bright comedy he is ably assisted by Miss Dixon, whose clear voice and cheerful personality all go to make this act a mest pleasing number. casing number.
June Le Veny delivers several of the dest Broadway song successes in a right, snappy manner, always making most pleasing impression upon her a most pleasing impression upon her audience.

A very pretty movelty entitled "A Ship of Roses," presented by Dorothea Read and Alfred, is causing much comment. A prominent teature of the act is the very clever toe duncing of Miss Road, the Highland dance being particularly good. Master Alfred Read possesses a clear, strong voice and renders the solo I'm Thred of Living Without You in very agreeable style.

This strong vaudeville bill is accompanied by a very interesting and diversified programme of moving pictures. A powerful dramatic subject is entitled Justified (?) This is the first of a series of problem plays from the S. & A. studios. A pictorial version of the famous poem Lochinvar will need no further description. The remaining pictures are of the clear, fickerless type and up to the usual standard of the house.

BROADWAY THEATER.

The Thief.

The coming of Charles Frohman's production of The Thief to the Broadway theater on Saturday, Oct. 2d, is perhaps the great dramatic event of the season here, owing to the unusual prestige of this city. For ten months The Thief was played at the Lyceum man is presenting the identical pro-duction on tour in the larger American duction on tour in the larger American cities.

The Thief as a play of rare strength and technical perfection has become practically a household word and a standard in considering the substance and power of the modern drama. The story concerns a wife who loves her husband to idolatry and who steals in order to hold his affection by the coquetry of her clothes. When the theft is disclosed she resorts to every subterfuge to evade detection. Finally, after expisition and suffering, she admits ter explation and suffering, she admits her guilt to her friends and the play her guilt to her friends and the play ends happily.

This rough outline only suggests the gigantic power of the play and the thrilling situations which are develop-ed by Henri Bernstein, the author.

FOETRY.

(Poem read by Mrs. Julia Ward Howelt the reception to the visiting dela-cates in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York.) A river flashing like a gem.
Crowned with a mountain diaders,
Invites an binaccustomed guest.
To launch his shallop on her crest—
A pilgrim whose exploring mind
Must leave his tardy pace behind;
"My bark creeps slow, the world is vast,
How shall its space be overpassed?"

tesponsive to his cry appears
t visionary, young in years, ommissioned with prophetic brain
the mystic problem to explain.
Where fire and water closest blend,
there find a servant and a friend.

Yet many a moon must wax and wane. With sleepless nights and days of pair, Pleading a monarch's court before. Shrewd processes and study sore. Ere on the silver tide shall float. Swifter than thought, young Fulton's boat.

And not alone for Hudson's stream
Avails the magic power of steam.
Blessings of unimagined worth
Its speed shell carry round the earth;
Knowledge shall on its pinions fly.
Nor land nor vace in darkness lie:
Commerce her heards shall freely
bring
To many an urgent summoning,
And Want and Wealth, in sundered lands.
Shall closely clasp redeaming hands.
While master minds new gospels span,
The holy brotherhood of man.

Rest, Fulten, in thine henored grave, Romembered with the wise and brave; Thy message visits every sea, Heralds of benefits to be. So nearly may our world relate. The mighty movements of her fate, So Doom and Dangers wide apart Appeal to every human heart.

And, as one sun doth compass all That shall arise or may befall. One flat on creation's night Bestowed the biessed boon of light. So shall all life one premise fill For Fpeedom, Justice and Goodwill.
